The kind of space, privacy, and natural beauty people imagine when they dream about Johns Island--yet rarely find today. At 2000 Bahama Drive, all three come together on a full acre bordered by a peaceful tree farm and open sky. Set on approximately one acre with no HOA, the property offers a rare sense of openness and tranquility, with windows throughout the home framing views of greenery and sky rather than neighboring houses. Inside, the home was thoughtfully designed to feel both elevated and functional, offering three bedrooms plus a remarkable flex space that immediately captures attention. One bedroom is located on the ground floor, perfectly suited for use as a guest room or a private home office. Above, the impressive flex room features soaring vaulted ceilings, exposed beams, and expansive windows--creating a dramatic space ideal for a media room, studio, or potential fifth bedroom. Upstairs the primary suite serves as a private retreat, highlighted by vaulted ceilings, shiplap accents, and a beautifully appointed spa-inspired bath featuring a freestanding soaking tub and an oversized glass shower with dual rainfall showerheads. At the center of the home, the open kitchen and living area blends style with everyday functionality. A walk-in pantry and dedicated prep or butler's pantry provide exceptional storage and workspace,
