Perfectly placed in Watson Hill, this home has that tucked away, wooded feel while still being just a short drive to Charleston and just around the corner from some of the area's most historic sites. It's quiet, it's private, and it just feels good out here. The lot is one of the first things you'll notice. It's spacious, surrounded by trees, and offers a level of privacy that's hard to find. Inside, you're welcomed by a bright office just off the entry, adorned with beautiful glass French doors. As you move through the home, it opens up into an easy, natural living and dining space filled with light. The fireplace anchors the room. The kitchen was designed with intention. It's both functional and inviting, with a range hood, plenty of workspace, and a sweet little nook that works just as well for a coffee as it does for wine. Before heading upstairs, step out back for a minute. The covered porch looks out over the woods, and it's the kind of space you'll actually use for slow mornings, evenings around a fire pit, or just a quiet place to sit and reset. A powder room rounds out the first floor. Upstairs, the primary suite is spacious and bright, with LVP flooring that carries throughout. You'll find a large walk-in closet and an ensuite with dual vanities and a walk-in shower. Three additional bedrooms, a full bath with a tub, and a generous laundry room complete the second level.
