This well-maintained 2-year-old home offers the perfect combination of move-in-ready condition and meaningful upgrades all within the rapidly growing Point Hope community of Cainho Plantation. With a Publix-anchored retail center, 30+ restaurants and shops on the way, and top-rated Philip Simmons schools nearby, this is a rare opportunity to plant roots and build equity in a neighborhood already in motion. Curb appeal starts at the street with classic double front porches framed by mature landscaping and blooming flowers. Step inside to find coastal LVP flooring, crown molding, and a gas fireplace anchoring the open-concept main living areas. The gourmet kitchen impresses with a farmhouse sink, upgraded lighting, and an entertainer's layout designed for gathering. Upstairs, the primary suite features tray ceilings and a spa-style tiled shower. Two additional bedrooms and 2.5 baths -- each with tile finishes -- complete the thoughtful floor plan. The backyard is your private retreat: a covered porch, fully fenced yard, and fragrant jasmine in bloom. A community fishing dock adds to the Lowcountry lifestyle. Smart home features, luxury appliances, and a Tesla high-speed EV charger are already installed -- future-proofed and ready for how you live today. Just minutes to downtown Charleston, Daniel Island, Mount Pleasant, and local beaches.
