Welcome to 251 Judith, where opportunity, flexibility, and space come together in one incredible property. This unique property offers a beautifully built workshop featuring a finished one-room efficiency living space complete with a full bathroom and separate shower -- perfect for guests, a home office, hobby space, weekend stays, or flexible use possibilities. Designed with functionality in mind, the structure also includes a separate two-bay garage divided by a firewall, creating ideal separation for storage, workspace, equipment, vehicles, or business use. Inside you'll find soaring ceilings, bright LED lighting, ceiling fans, mini-split HVAC, concrete floors, and a clean custom-built feel throughout. Outside, the expansive homesite offers wide open green space, fencing already in place, mature trees, and endless room to grow. Whether you envision building a future home, expanding your setup, parking boats/RVs, or simply enjoying extra breathing room, this property delivers versatility that is hard to find. Even better? Utilities are already set up for future possibilities with city water available plus two approved septic systems OR public sewer availability, giving buyers incredible flexibility for future development plans. 251 Judith is perfect for: Small business owners Contractors & tradespeople Car collectors or hobbyists Buyers seeking land with
