A rare convergence of unparalleled design, coveted location, and effortless luxury. From the moment of arrival, the architecture and design almost seem to announce itself. Inspired by earthy hues, dramatic contrast, and timeless warmth, this home is equal parts showstopper and sanctuary. As you arrive, a stunning grand oak canopies the floating walkway and staircase that lead to a dramatic herringbone tile landing, and soaring panels of steel and glass with a ten-foot pivot door. Step inside to a continuation of the dramatic entry where the axial sightline carries the eye straight through the home to the shimmering waters of Ralston Creek, a breathtaking first impression, entirely by design. Wide-plank white oak hardwood floors anchor the principal living spaces, giving way to the dramatic and expansive great room and dining room space. The expansive wall of sliding glass truly blurs the boundary between interior and exterior. No detail was left to chance and no surface went unconsidered. This space features a custom mitered marble entry, custom lighting fixtures, arched detail doors, a statement stone fireplace, and custom shelving with backlit niches. The kitchen is a true architectural centerpiece. Its entry is defined by a bespoke steel and glass partition. Dramatic stone is used both on the island and the statement range hood. The meticulous
