Set within the most storied pocket of Mount Pleasant's Old Village, this property represents a rare offering defined not only by location, but by presence, scale, and floorplan. Just moments from the Pitt Street Bridge, Alhambra Hall, and the Post House Inn, the setting places you at the center of one of Charleston's most enduring and tightly held coastal communities. Positioned in an X flood zone and set on a generous lot with both front and rear yard space, the home is thoughtfully designed to maximize indoor-outdoor living. A private pool, garden setting, and expansive porch with harbor breezes create an effortless backdrop for both entertaining and everyday living, while a separate poolhouse and multiple outdoor spaces add to the property's versatility. Inside, the home features a bright and open floor plan with vaulted ceilings, shiplap detailing, and oak flooring throughout. The main living area is centered around a fireplace and flows seamlessly through multiple French doors to the outdoors, creating a natural extension of the living space. The kitchen is both functional and well-appointed, offering a large center island, high-end stainless steel appliances, limestone countertops, and skylights that bring in abundant natural light. A separate dining area further enhances the home's livability and entertaining potential. The primary suite is on the main level
