Welcome to 4718 Blockhouse Lane, a beautifully maintained marsh front home designed to embrace its stunning natural surroundings. Featuring elevated construction, expansive outdoor living spaces, and Charleston-inspired piazzas that capture cooling breezes and sweeping marsh views, this exceptional residence is perfectly situated on a private 0.28-acre lot within Stono Ferry, one of Charleston's most picturesque neighborhoods. Offering the ideal blend of comfort, elegance, and relaxed Lowcountry living, this home is a true retreat surrounded by nature. Thoughtfully designed for both everyday living and entertaining, the floor plan offers gracious living spaces, including a study and an elegant dining room with floating tray ceiling. At the heart of the home, the dramatic two-story greatroom showcases a soaring wall of windows, flooding the space with natural light while capturing stunning marsh vistas. Custom built-ins and a gas fireplace add warmth and character to an inviting gathering space that is both grand and comfortable. The spacious kitchen with breakfast bar creates a natural gathering spot, creating a seamless connection to the main living areas. Whether preparing meals, gathering with family, or hosting guests, this thoughtfully designed layout keeps everyone connected while showcasing the home's bright and welcoming
