Welcome to an exceptional expression of refined Lowcountry living in Smythe Park, one of Daniel Island's most sought after neighborhoods. Beautifully positioned on a prominent corner lot, this distinguished Southern traditional residence blends timeless with sophisticated modern updates, creating a home that is as elegant as it is inviting. From the moment you arrive, the home's classic Southern presence, manicured setting, and thoughtfully designed outdoor spaces set the tone for what awaits inside. A gracious interior showcases exceptional craftsmanship, generous proportions, and an effortless sense of flow; with brand new hardwood floors, detailed crown molding, and a fresh painted interior throughout. The living room opens seamlessly to a beautifully updated kitchen featuring custom cabinetry, quartz countertops, farm sink, under cabinet lighting, a very large center island with seating for four, a custom pantry, and plantation shutters throughout the home. Every detail has been thoughtfully considered to combine beauty, functionality, and effortless entertaining. The main level also offers a private French-door office with a floor-to-ceiling custom bookcase. Directly next to the office is a generously appointed bedroom with an updated bathroom, creating an ideal retreat for guests or a flexible space for visiting.
