JUST REDUCED amazing opportunity to own this wonderful 2nd row, ocean view home that has been in the same family for almost 50 years! You will love the tongue and groove paneling, hardwood floors, amazing kitchen/den, and the private master suite on the top floor that opens to a porch with lovely ocean views! There are multiple covered and open porches for taking in the sun or enjoying your morning coffee. And, the first floor was added to provide additional space for a workshop, storage or game room. This space is included in the total square footage from the tax map. If square footage is important, please measure. This would be a wonderful opportunity to update this charming IOP home or start over and create your own design to capture an even better ocean view! Listed By Charleston Trident MLS
